Welcome to the second Findhorn Bay Festival

---

Hello and a very warm welcome to the biennial Findhorn Bay Festival: a spectacular six-day celebration of arts, culture and innovation, featuring outstanding artists from across Scotland and beyond.

Following the great success of the inaugural Findhorn Bay Festival 2014, we are back this year with another fabulous programme of events showcasing local, national and international artists. Get ready for a vibrant mix of theatre, music, dance and visual art as well as free events including the popular annual community event Culture Day Forres, a cultural extravaganza for all the family to enjoy.

2016 is Scotland's Year of Innovation, Architecture and Design and this year's Findhorn Bay Festival will be hosting exhibitions, talks and tours spotlighting Moray's important contribution to the country's built environment. There will be a special focus upon green innovation, with events showcasing ground-breaking conservation and environmental projects at Brodie Castle. Throughout the Festival we will be staging performances in unexpected spaces and scenic locations, helping to draw attention to some of the remarkable architecture and natural landscape that surrounds us.

Presented by Findhorn Bay Arts, the biennial festival brings quality arts and culture to the area and helps creative people from across Moray thrive and develop. Findhorn Bay Arts is delighted and proud to have played a leading role in Forres winning a Creative Place Award from Creative Scotland in 2015; both an award and accolade that recognises and celebrates local talent and creative collaborations between artists, businesses and organisations within the community.

So please come along to the Findhorn Bay Festival 2016 and be part of the fantastic arts and culture explosion happening right now in our beautiful corner of Scotland.

Julie Fowlis

with Nairn Gaelic Choir

---

Wednesday 21 September

8pm

St. Laurence Church, Forres

£17 / £15

Julie Fowlis' exquisite voice, her interpretation of Scottish Gaelic culture and ability to bring folk music out of the past and into something contemporary, dynamic and irresistible, are what have made her a genuine and multi-award winning crossover star.

Julie will forever be known for singing the theme song to Brave, Disney Pixar's multi-award winning animated film set in the ancient Highlands of Scotland. For the Festival Julie will perform with her band and especially for this opening concert will be joined by Moray flautist, Uilleann piper and composer Calum Stewart and the Nairn Gaelic Choir.

Julie has previously worked with artists of the calibre of Mary Chapin Carpenter and James Taylor, collaborated with Aled Jones and virtuoso violinist Nicola Benedetti and her long list of plaudits include nomination for BBC Radio 2 Folk Singer of the Year 2015, 'Best Artist' at the Songlines World Music Awards and singing live to a TV audience of around one billion people at the Opening Ceremony of the Glasgow Commonwealth Games in 2014.

A sublime and impassioned singer who has opened the treasure trove of Gaelic song to a whole new audience.

Mark Radcliffe, BBC Radio 2

Putting Gaelic folk music on the world music map.

The Observer

Orkestra del Sol

Presented in partnership with Universal Hall

Sunday 25 September

4.30pm

Universal Hall
The Park, Findhorn

£12 / £10 / Under 16s £8

Family Ticket £32

Utterly captivating Songlines

The genius of the Orkestra is the way they hide serious musicianship inside tongue-in-cheek humour. It's a winning combination.

The Scotsman

Globally inspired; but distilled in Scotland.

Bring the kids, bring some cushions and bring along your dance shoes because Orkestra del Sol are bringing their explosive reinvention of global brass band music to Findhorn's magnificent Universal Hall for a polka-ing, pogo-ing session of Ska, porro, klezmer, Balkan brass and funk.

The swagger of a Balkan wedding band and the rebellious energy of Latin carnival will be ever-present, along with the flavours from Bollywood to Havana to the sassy street bands of New Orleans – all put into the mix with a host of colourful characters and given the exuberant Orkestra del Sol treatment.

The Banjo Lounge 4

with DJ Lewis Lowe

Friday 23 September

9pm

Town Hall, Forres

£10 / £8

Impressive...This inventiveness makes me smile.

Laura Barnett, The Guardian

Hayseed Dixie on speed with a serious chunk of funk! Enjoy an evening of bluegrass-funk interpretations with Scotland's finest acoustic mash-ups band The Banjo Lounge 4.

Featuring five string banjo, chunky acoustic guitar, double bass, stripped down drums (sometimes even a suitcase) and brilliant four part harmonies, this tweed-clad Edinburgh quintet have been entertaining crowds across Europe with their brilliantly imaginative take on some of pop's most memorable tunes. Whatever your flavour they've got it covered!

So get ready to throw some funky bluegrass shapes to a souped-up version of Dizzy Rascal's Dance Wiv Me, a synth-grass cover of New Order's Blue Monday, a high-octane version of Duran Duran's Girls on Film, a raucously bouncy version of House of Pain's Jump Around, a stylophone-powered take on The Final Countdown by Europe, Metallica vs The Chordettes in Enter Mr Sandman, Let's Dance by Mr David 'Bluegrass' Bowie and plenty more acoustic crate digging mash-ups.

Wine, Women & Song

The Bevvy Sisters with Andrea Turner & Too Many Kooks

Friday 23 September

8pm

Kinloss Church Hall, Kinloss

£12 / £10

The audience know they've seen something special.

Broadway Baby

They glide through their own songs and covers of blues, jazz, soul and country with sparkling accuracy and affection, soul and fun.

Broadway Baby

The Bevvy Sisters' lusciously harmonious marriage of classy original song writing, vintage Americana and finger-licking instrumental work have won them a uniquely distinctive place in audiences' hearts. With the spellbinding vocal chemistry of co-lead singers Heather Macleod, Gina Rae and banjo-wielding Cera Impala, they seamlessly cover an artfully wide-ranging repertoire of original, vintage and contemporary songs.

Wine, Women and Song warms up with a splendid selection of jazz classics from the rich and chocolatey voice of Andrea Turner and a delightful helping of theatrical a-cappella from Moray's own glamour belles Too Many Kooks.

This event is BYOB. Please feel free to bring along a bottle. Tea and coffee will be available.

Old Blind Dogs

Presented in partnership with Universal Hall

Thursday 22 September

8.30pm

Universal Hall
The Park, Findhorn

£12 / £10 / Under 18s £6

...a compelling energy and intoxicating rhythm, players and audience seem to share a wild ecstasy of emotion.

The Scotsman

Montreal Gazette

Get ready for an evening of cutting edge roots revival with 'The Dogs', one of Scotland's most highly touted traditional folk bands. Founding member Jonny Hardie (The Chieftains, The Unusual Suspects) will be joined on stage by Donald Hay (Eliza Carthy, Kate Rusby), Ali Hutton (Traacherous Orchestra, Ross Ainslie Trio) and Aaron Jones (Kate Rusby, Siobhan Miller) to perform an energetic mix of classic favourites and brilliant new tracks from the latest release, Whatever Yet May Be.

During their twenty four year career (and counting) Old Blind Dogs have released eleven studio albums and have won numerous awards including Folk Band of the Year at the Scots Trad Music Awards.

Opening the concert will be an acoustic set from Edinburgh quintet, The Banjo Lounge 4, who have been entertaining crowds across Europe with their brilliantly imaginative take on some of pop's most memorable tunes.

Duke Special, James Yorkston and Randolph's Leap

Sunday 25 September

8pm

Town Hall, Forres

£16 / £14 / Under 18s £6

Sumptuous, symphonic pop anthem, courtesy of dreadlocked Irishman who sounds like The Flaming Lips crossed with Rufus Wainwright
Q Magazine

Yorkston has reached a state of grace that writers can spend for ever trying to attain.

The Scotsman

A very special festival triple bill of independent music from Scotland and Northern Ireland.

Hailing from Belfast with a sound that is self-confessed 'hobo-chic', singer songwriter, multi-instrumentalist and gramophone impresario Duke Special is once heard, never forgotten. A consummate storyteller and lyrical poet, with songs delivered in a warm Belfast brogue, Duke's affection for the worlds of music-theatre and vaudeville shine through in his live gigs, drawing comparisons with Van Morrison at his best.

Described by John Peel as 'the finest songwriter of his generation', over eight solo albums and numerous collaborations, Fife's James Yorkston has forged a reputation as one of Scotland's most respected songwriters and performers. An old-fashioned storyteller blessed with a rare gift for melody and mood, James' intimate live shows mix bittersweet yarns of love and liquor with humorous conversational interludes.

Glasgow-based Randolph's Leap are purveyors of joyous brass-tinged folk-pop. Founded and fronted by Nairn-born Adam Ross, and due to release their second album in 2016, The Quietus called them 'the next generation of witty Scottish indie pop'.

For this concert there will be musical collaborations between artists and a guest appearance by Plan B Collaborative Theatre.

Glitter & Sparkle Festival Ball

Saturday 24 September

8pm - Midnight

Town Hall, Forres

£12 / £10

Cathedral Quarter Arts Festival, Belfast

Come on all you twisters and funksters, all you jivers and groovers, get on your (40s to 60s) glad rags and dance, dance, dance the night away. We'll have some fabulous vintage sounds to match your fabulous vintage clothes. Those maestros of spellbinding vocal harmonies the Bevv Sisters will be teaming up with the Bad Boys from the Loveboat Big Band and members of Orkestra del Sol, for a Festival Big Band special to get you partying like it's never even been 1999.

Adding to the burlesque mash-up will be showgirls, swing dancers, acrobats and a whole fancy dress box load of sequins and feathers. The carnivalesque highpoint of the evening will (quite literally) be provided by the extraordinary acrobatic feats of the 'Culinary Handstand Tower' - the spectacularly disgruntled café goer who ascends a tower of soups, bowls, champagne and glasses without so much as a burnt crisp for safety.

Alongside our Speyside Craft Brewery Bar will be the Gordon Castle bar so you can sample the award-winning gin, created using botanicals from the Castle's very own Walled Garden.

Live Music Sessions

There will be live music sessions for all festival-goers to enjoy with local talent and festival musicians including Old Blind Dogs, Orkestra del Sol, Bevy Sisters and The Banjo Lounge 4. If you've got an instrument to play, a song to sing or a story to tell, come along and join in. All sessions are free.

Michiel Turner

Young Musician in Residence

Hailing from Forres, Michiel's melodic guitar sound, dynamic vocals and evocative lyrics have been gaining him many new fans and some rave reviews over the past few months. His self-penned compositions are a fusion of alternative, acoustic, folk, jazz and soul, and his live gigs have been praised for their intimacy and charm. Michiel will be appearing at IGNITE presents...and impromptu gigs throughout the Festival.

Family Ceilidh

Sunday 25 September

2pm

James Milne Institute, Findhorn

£5 / Family Ticket £16

Grab your dancing shoes and all of the family as you pa de bas along to the Festival Family Ceilidh. Set on the shores of the iconic Findhorn Bay, the ceilidh will have the historic James Milne Institute reeling to the live toe tapping tunes of local octet, The Boatshed Ceilidh Band.

Formed by members of the Findhorn Coastal Rowing Club, the eight piece band have been performing to sell out events over the past year and will be sure to have a wave of happy families dancing the afternoon away.

IGNITE presents....

Saturday 24 September | Victoria Hotel, Forres

A specially curated event that brings together three organisations that work with new creative talent. Open to people of all ages and particularly for young people, this is a chance to network, meet industry professionals and hear some fantastic emerging musical talent. Feel free to come for part of the day or immerse into the full event. This event is on a 'pay what you want' basis.

XpoNorth

Breaking into today's music industry

4pm - 5.30pm

This informative seminar will bring together a range of music industry professionals to discuss how young and emerging artists can take their first steps in today's music industry. This is a great opportunity for ambitious young musicians looking for their first break in the business to meet key players from the UK music scene and learn more about the current music industry landscape.

HYAH & Féis Rois

Creative Conversations

6pm - 7pm

Pizza will be served!

We invite you to join a #creativeconversation. The format of the event is informal. It is a chance for artists, students and professionals working, studying or practising in the creative and cultural sectors to come together for networking and discussion; no Power Points, no set agenda, just an environment within which we can exchange ideas and share experience. We hope this will encourage discussion and uncover possible collaboration and partnership opportunities.

Music Plus

Live Sessions

7pm - 10pm

After the theory, now some practice! With the assistance of Music Plus, young musicians from across the region will have the chance to perform live in front of an appreciative and informed audience. Music Plus is a mentoring project for 14-19 year olds living in Scotland and is funded by Creative Scotland's Youth Music Initiative. The aim of the project is to increase the skills, confidence and wellbeing of young people in Scotland through a diverse range of music making activities.

IGNITE: Moray Youth Arts Hub provides creative opportunities for children and young people to get involved in the arts. The Hub aims to nurture and celebrate enthusiasm, ambition and talent. Whether you are an artist or just want to try something out, Moray Youth Arts Hub can help.

The Elixir of Love

Scottish Opera

---

Monday 26 September

7.30pm

Elgin Town Hall, Elgin

£15 / Under 26s £5

The Findhorn Bay Festival 2016 will close on a magnificent high with Scottish Opera's new production of Donizetti's gorgeously sunny comic opera The Elixir of Love.

Dynamic young British director Oliver Platt and designer Oliver Townsend (Rodelinda, 2013) take their inspiration from the world of P.G. Wodehouse in a cheeky, vividly characterised show with its tongue firmly in its cheek.

Nemorino is hopelessly in love with Adina but she's out of his league. Threatened by the arrival of the swaggering Sergeant Belcore, Nemorino enlists the help of quack doctor, Dulcamara. Believing he's drinking a magic love potion (suspiciously similar to cheap red wine) he's delighted when the village girls begin to swarm around him. But is it the potion, or the rumour that Nemorino has inherited a large pile of cash from his uncle that has them all of a flutter?

The lively and lyrical score sees Donizetti at his best, from the beauty of Una furtiva lagrima to the fun of Dulcamara's patter songs. The cast includes Ellie Laugharne, Welsh tenor Elgan Llyr Thomas and acclaimed baritone James Cleverton. They are accompanied by five players from The Orchestra of Scottish Opera in a new instrumental arrangement by Scottish Opera's Head of Music, Derek Clark.

Mallory: Beyond Everest

Written and performed by John Burns

Sunday 25 September

11am

James Milne Institute,
Findhorn

£8 / £6

a fine show and a worthy tribute to one of the heroes of mountaineering.
Broadway Baby

the play is a beautifully-written reimagining of the life of a complicated, driven man.
What's On North

Was George Mallory the first man to climb Everest? Over 90 years ago Mallory and fellow mountaineer Andrew Irvine vanished into the mist on their final assault of the unconquered summit. What if Mallory had survived the mountain? What ghosts would have haunted him?

Award winning writer, actor and mountaineer John Burns brings George Mallory back to life in a stunning one-man performance, featuring an original score by Bob Pegg. Mallory: Beyond Everest offers a fascinating insight into the mind of a man torn between love for his wife Ruth and his relentless, burning desire to be the first man to reach the highest point on earth.

Appearing at the James Milne Institute situated at the heart of the historic fishing village of Findhorn.

Ticket includes complimentary coffee and scones.

Jungle Book

Indigo Moon Theatre

Friday 23 September

6.30pm

Saturday 24 September

2pm

Town Hall, Forres

£7 / Family Ticket £25

It is easy to believe the puppets of the characters are alive and real...This is the kind of theatre I would take my children to see.
Theatre Full Stop

An enchanting retelling of Rudyard Kipling's original children's classic. Fearless and free, Mowgli the 'man-cub,' finds fun and friendship as he learns to live by the Law of the Jungle.

Indigo Moon Theatre bring Mowgli's wild adventures to life with inventive puppetry and shadow theatre, wonderfully engaging music and colourful digital projections in a show that young children and families will simply love.

When the show's over there will be a chance for everyone to see how it's all done. Indigo Moon Theatre hope that everyone will be inspired to go home and get really creative with their cornflakes boxes!

Suitable for children age 4+.

Show lasts 50 Minutes with no interval.

Drift

Vision Mechanics in co-production with Nordland Visual Theatre

Friday 23 & Saturday 24 September

10am - 7pm

Sunday 25 September

10am - 5pm

Back Beach, Findhorn

Located amidst the golden sand dunes of Findhorn Beach, Drift uses soundscapes, songs and immersive sculptures to explore themes of isolation, captivity, separation and courage.

Drift is inspired by the story of Betty Mouat, a crofter from Shetland who spent eight days drifting alone in the North Sea in a stricken coastal cutter in 1886. Drift invites us to journey across the sand, experiencing aspects of Betty's inner-life during the ill-fated voyage. The music is an exquisite Shetland song-cycle and the installations range from tiny, authentic 19th century interiors to dream-like sculptures.

Drift has been shortlisted for three Critics' Awards For Theatre Scotland (CATS): Best Design, Best Music and Sound, and Best Technical Presentation.

This is a performance installation. The show runs throughout the day. Every five minutes one person may enter the performance. A performance lasts 40 min. Due to the location of this performance it is not suitable for wheelchair users.

Vision Mechanics has produced a minutely detailed and emotive piece...This is a beach trip like no other.

Edinburgh Guide

...no-one who experiences it will forget this beautiful installation show..

The Scotsman

all I have to do is dream...

Eden Court CREATIVE Integrated Performance Group

Monday 26 September

2pm

Universal Hall
The Park, Findhorn

£5 / £3

Co-directed by Ruby Worth and John Batty

all I have to do is dream... is a groundbreaking piece of visual theatre, performed by a cast of 50 adults with additional support needs and their support workers. It follows a cleaner who after a long shift falls asleep on an empty stage. The subsequent dreamscapes take a ride through a vivid collage of movement and image, taking in the music of Bach, Sigur Rós and Tatsuhiko Asano.

Diving deep into a collective pool of aspiration, fragmentation and wonder, the integrated performance group invite us in to dream a little dream, take a giant leap and walk a collective tightrope of adventure. In turns mysterious, surreal and serene, this production offers it's audiences opportunities to marvel, to delight and to be moved by a company of people who know, that no matter what, the show will go on.

The Integrated Performance Group was founded in 2007 at Eden Court Theatre. Beginning with 12 members the group has steadily grown in numbers and in reputation.

This show is presented in partnership with Eden Court Theatre, Findhorn Bay Arts and Universal Hall Arts Centre, with support from Nansen Highland, Leonard Cheshire Disability and Northern Meeting.

Pulse

Written and performed by Mairi Campbell

Thursday 22 September

1pm & 8pm

James Milne Institute,
Findhorn

£8 / £6 Matinee; £12 / £10 Evening

Pulse was extraordinary. We were full of tears and wonder. Thank you! Singing and tapping along to the tracks
Lyre Productions

Wild, primal, honest.
The Herald

Award-winning musician Mairi Campbell presents her new solo theatre show. Deeply touching, funny and potent, Pulse weaves live viola, voice, animation, movement and storytelling to narrate Mairi's musical homecoming and journey of the heart.

Discussing the inspiration behind Pulse, Mairi says: 'There was an urgency and intensity about the music...I think it was connected to Scotland's referendum. I was looking for ways to integrate story, song and movement. I wanted to take that on. It was clear that this new music was a show, not a gig. And so the show Pulse was born.'

Mairi Campbell's Pulse has been selected for the prestigious Made in Scotland: a curated showcase of music, theatre and dance performed during the Edinburgh Festival Fringe.

The 1pm show includes cup of soup and roll courtesy of the Bakehouse Cafe. The 7pm concert concludes with a 45 minute concert set performed by Mairi.

The Lady Vanishes

Dudendance Theatre

Saturday 24 September

Dusk: 6pm

Sunday 25 September

Dawn: 6.45am

Kinloss Abbey, Kinloss

£5

The concept of this installation performance is superb and it is truly a unique, meditative experience.

Fringe Review

It felt as if holographic flashes of distilled history were being projected across time.

The Herald

From behind ruined abbey walls appear ghostly figures, clad in hooded white robes, eternal migratory souls moving through imaginary borders, dancing to the harmonies of an unseen heavenly choir. This is The Lady Vanishes, a new installation performance by Dudendance, which draws upon the juxtaposition of spirituality and war in a meditative interpretation of invasion, conquest and contemplation.

The memories and scars of historic conflicts are all around us in the haunting ruins of Kinloss Abbey, once the largest Cistercian Monastery in the north of Scotland. The Lady Vanishes invites its audiences to discover different 'views' through and into this ageless landscape: to see the shadows of the men and women who, like us, once walked this ground, thought their own thoughts and were swayed by their own passions.

The Lady Vanishes to be performed in the light of dusk and dawn features the beautiful choral harmonies of the Lantern Singers a chamber choir who specialise in renaissance and sacred music.

Mrs Barbara Nice

Janice Connolly

Friday 23 September

8pm

Saturday 24 September

1pm & 8pm

James Milne Institute,
Findhorn

£8 / £6 Matinee; £10 / £8 Evening

Excellent - has the audience in the palm of her hand right from the start - great timing and unique comic insights.
Manchester Evening News

As hilarious as it is possible to get.
The Scotsman

Barbara Nice is your average middle-aged housewife. She has five teenage kids, she ignores her husband, she reads Take a Break and enjoys hunting for bargains in Poundstretcher...and at the weekend she does a stand-up routine and occasionally goes stage-diving.

Janice Connolly was performing as Barbara Nice when spotted by Peter Kay and went on to play Holy Mary in both Phoenix Nights and Max and Paddy's Road to Nowhere. She has also appeared in Coronation Street playing both Dolly Gartside and Sheila Wheeler. Her radio work includes Arthur Smith's Balham Bash where her comedy creation Barbara Nice plays the resident housekeeper and mistress of the house. In 2016 Barbara Nice moves onto the small screen in her own BBC2 sitcom with Janice starring alongside John Henshaw of The Royle Family and Early Doors fame.

The 1pm show includes a cup of soup and roll courtesy of the Bakehouse Cafe. After the 8pm show there will be a bar & DJ until late.

Culture Day Forres

---

Saturday 24 September

11am - 4pm

Across Forres

FREE

Tolbooth Street will be closed to all traffic on Saturday but the High Street will remain open. Please take care when crossing roads, stick to pedestrian pavements and use designated crossing points.

Whatever the weather Culture Day Forres will go ahead! However, some outdoor events may be moved indoors if it's a real dreach of a day.

Free parking across town and overspill parking is available at the back of Forres Academy.

Culture Day Forres maps and guides can be downloaded in advance from our Festival website (available from 9th Sept) or collected at High Street cafes, bars and shops on the day.

Returning for a fourth year, Culture Day Forres will see the streets, parks, shops and public buildings of Forres come alive with a carnivalesque explosion of art, music, film and dance, talks and tours and much, much more.

What will be going on?

There's too much to list, so here's just a taster. Watch the sparks fly at the Science and Innovation Fair. Go on a mad safari with Animal Antics Street Theatre. Join in and do some Scottish County Dancing. Enjoy some tumbling, stumbling slapstick with street clown Mr H. Prepare your ears for TNT Explosion – the biggest street band ever to play Forres.

Where's it all happening?

Culture Day Forres is everywhere! Check out the Tolbooth, the Library, St Leonard's Church, St John's Lodge, the Nicholson Building, the Town Hall, the Falconer Museum, Rose Garden, Tesco Car Park, Grant Park and just about every inch of tarmac along the High Street.

On the day there will be plenty of colourful characters and helpful volunteers out and about to point you in the right direction. You can also visit a Culture Day Information Point at The Tolbooth or in our pink gazebo in Grant Park to find out more.

Don't forget. All events are FREE and suitable for ALL AGES. So get involved and get creative.

Register to Take Part

Those who want to take part must register as a lighting guerrilla by emailing: assistant@findhornbayarts.com

Be a lighting guerrilla, join a flashmob and see Forres and Findhorn in a totally new and spectacular light!

As part of Scotland's Festival of Architecture, the internationally renowned Light Collective are creating a series of community lighting installations that will highlight the role of light in shaping the night-time character of our built and natural environment. As a 'lighting guerrilla' you will be using mobile spotlights to illuminate local buildings.

When the Guerrilla Lighting Tour is over you are invited to join us for a post-event Light Night Party. Here photographs will be shared, the value and role of innovative lighting discussed and learn more about the international Guerrilla Lighting Manifesto.

So come on and be a lighting guerrilla, take photographs or just watch the action.

It's twilight, the festival pulses on and there's something strange and magical happening in Forres Town Centre. Raise your gaze above the shop fronts to the storerooms and garrets that normally pass unnoticed. Now their windows are filled with vivid light and colour, moving portraits, abstract and absurd, part Warhol, part Banksy. But hang on a minute, that's my neighbour! Welcome to Wildbird's unique and stunning Street Scene.

Wildbird is a Moray based arts company who work with local people to create short films and portraits that bring a glorious vibrancy to the ordinary (and extraordinary) acts of everyday life happening within their communities. During the summer Wildbird have been working with the people of Forres to capture the content for this amazing installation.

Danger High Voltage!

The Science Museum,
London

Wednesday 21 September
6.30pm

Town Hall, Forres
Free

Everything you have ever wanted to know about electricity and magnetism but were too afraid to experiment to find out!

How did Luigi Galvani make a dead frog dance? Why did Benjamin Franklin fly his kite in a lightning storm? Just how unusual was Nikola Tesla? Have you ever wondered what 250,000 volts looks like close up?

All of these questions and more will be answered by the boffins from the Science Museum in London as they take you on a highly charged journey through the science and history of electricity.

So if you are hoping to pass your physics exam, or wondered why you never did, or simply enjoy weird science and hair-raising experiments, trip along to the Town Hall in Forres. It's guaranteed to be an electrifying experience!

Presented by Falconer Museum with support from Berry Burn Community Fund.

Inside the Light

Wednesday 21 - Monday 26
September

Various sites throughout the festival
Free

Inside the Light

Inside the Light is a temporary lighting installation which will pop up at various sites throughout the festival. A circle of ephemeral light will be formed and you are invited to rest here, reflect on your surroundings and welcome the light.

Lighting design, supply and installation sponsored by LEDC4 and Future Architectural Lighting. In-kind production by Collective Architecture and Future Architectural Lighting.

Lighting Tolbooth

During the course of the Festival the clock tower of the historic Tolbooth in Forres will be brought to life in a temporary colour changing lighting installation.

Lighting design, supply and installation sponsored by Lumenpulse and Kelvin Lighting. In-kind production by Collective Architecture and Kelvin Lighting.

Glass Microbiology

Luke Jerram

Wednesday 21 September -
Sunday 2 October

Brodie Castle, Brodie

Free

Castle Open: Sat to Wed, 10.30am to 4pm and Thurs and Fri 12.30pm to 3.30pm.

You've never really seen a virus until you see this.

Scientific American

*It's almost impossible to find beauty in disease, but UK artist
Luke Jerram managed to do so through his art.*

Huffington Post

Beautiful but deadly.

The Observer

From The Metropolitan Museum in New York to The Museum of Glass in Shanghai, Luke Jerram's Glass Microbiology sculptures have appeared in museums and galleries around the world. We are delighted to announce that Glass Microbiology will be making its Scottish debut at the Findhorn Bay Festival 2016.

Created to contemplate the global impact of the diseases they portray, Glass Microbiology offers alternative representations of viruses to the artificially coloured imagery received through the media. By extracting colour from the imagery and creating jewel-like sculptures in glass, Jerram creates a complex tension between the artworks' beauty and the deadly portent they represent.

UK artist Luke Jerram is known worldwide for creating huge and hugely entertaining public artworks. His celebrated street pianos installation Play Me, I'm Yours has been presented in over fifty cities and his Sky Orchestra was commissioned to celebrate the 2012 London Olympics. In 2010, Glass Microbiology won the coveted Rakow Award and in 2015 was exhibited at ArtScience Museum, Singapore, alongside Leonardo Da Vinci's Codex Atlanticus. Photographs of Jerram's glass artworks have featured in the Lancet, the British Medical Journal and Nature Magazine and are now seen as useful representations of virology within the scientific community.

Floating BioSculpture

Biomatrix Water Solutions

---

Opening from Wednesday 21 September

Brodie Castle, Brodie

Free

Floating BioSculpture is a permanent installation made possible with support from the National Trust for Scotland.

Floating BioSculpture is a living sculpture that utilises modular floating ecosystems to create a pioneering engineered ecology. This project explores the relationships between ecology, technology, art and engineering and looks towards a future where nature and technology can function in symbiosis.

Biomatrix Water Solutions specialise in creating floating ecosystems, islands and riverbanks that combine innovative use of durable marine engineering materials with ecologically beautiful water treatment habitats. Visitors to Floating BioSculpture will get the chance to discover how these amazing waterway ecosystems provide an aesthetic water feature that attract and provide healthy habitats for native wildlife, whilst also supporting good water quality.

Based in Forres, Biomatrix Water Solutions create award-winning habitat and water restoration projects that reach from Europe to the USA and China.

These beautiful images remind us just how important our natural heritage in the quality of our lives. I hope they will cause everyone who sees them to reflect on what more they can do to cherish and protect nature.

Professor Steve Blackmore,
Royal Botanic Garden Edinburgh

The Wild Media Foundation presents 2020VISION - the most ambitious photography based conservation initiative ever staged in the United Kingdom.

The magnificent grounds of 16th Century Brodie Castle provides the backdrop for the 2020VISION Exhibition, a unique street gallery documenting twenty flagship ecosystem restoration projects, this unique exhibition features the photography of many of Britain's most creative and respected outdoor professionals; including Andy Rouse, Joe Cornish and Peter Cairns. Both visually stunning and hugely informative, this ground-breaking collection weaves compelling narratives about the UK's ecosystems and the vital role they play in all our lives.

2020VISION is a collaborative project, working alongside many partners, such as RBGE, Scottish Natural Heritage and John Muir Trust, to tell this vital story.

Transient Light

Ian Cameron

Exhibition Opening Reception

Wednesday 21 September

5 - 7pm

Thursday 22 - Saturday 24
September

10am - 5pm

Tolbooth, Forres

Free

In 2015 Ian Cameron was voted Scottish Landscape Photographer of The Year, a fitting accolade for an artist whose work has graced the covers of magazines, calendars and books and can be found in corporate offices, galleries and private homes all around the world.

Unusual amongst his peers, Ian prefers to use the traditional medium of film rather than digital to capture, what he describes as, 'those magical seconds when all the elements align.' Ian calls this moment Transient Light - a fleeting passage of time when light, composition and subject, coherently combine to produce an image that is at the same time faithful and extraordinary.

In keeping with the 2016 Festival theme of presenting artwork in non-traditional settings, Transient Light is being hosted in the historic Tolbooth situated at the heart of Forres.

With the Rising Tide

Sophia Sheppard

Wednesday 21 - Friday 23
September

2pm - 5pm

Saturday 24 & Sunday 25
September

11am - 5pm

Findhorn Heritage Centre,
Findhorn

Free

Film Length: 18 minutes.

Runs continuously through the day.

Sophia Sheppard is a young artist based in Glasgow working mainly in film and photography. A recent graduate of Glasgow School of Art, her current work explores themes around community, belonging, cultural heritage and craft. Her interest in the St Ayles Skiff was sparked initially by the sense of genuine collaborative community endeavour and engagement that she observed when documenting the build and launch of Findhorn's skiff 'Joppa'.

With The Rising Tide is a short documentary film exploring themes around community, craft, cultural heritage and connections between people, land and sea. Focusing on the St Ayles Skiff, a traditional style wooden rowing boat that communities can build themselves with or without previous boat building experience, the skiff has become a way for people to re-establish a connection with the waters around their home, with their own community and with other coastal communities.

On Sunday there will be storytelling throughout the day, the St. Ayles Skiffs will be on display, plus live music in and around the Heritage Centre and village.

The Travelling Gallery is a custom-made and mobile contemporary art space created inside a beautiful yellow and grey double-decker bus – the ARTINABUS. As part of the Festival of Architecture 2016 the Travelling Gallery is touring a series of new works by artists based in Scotland.

The Findhorn Bay Festival leg of the tour features intricately made animated paper models by Charles Young, virtual reality headsets exploring Brutalist Architecture by Dennis and Debbie Club, Torsten Lauschmann collaborating with The Bothy Project and an interactive drawing following the map of Crinan Canal by ~in the fields.

The Travelling Gallery is supported by New Media Scotland's Alt-w Fund with investment from Creative Scotland.

Frames Per Second

Graeme Roger & Chris Bird

Wednesday 21 - Sunday 25 September

11am - 5pm

Bird House, Forres

Free

A new projection mapping artwork installation that brilliantly weaves together the artforms of photography, film and sound.

Using traditional methods and techniques inspired by the pioneering work of the Lumière Brothers, Frames Per Second offers an abstract and intimate re-imagining of the buildings, streets and landmarks of Forres.

Graeme Roger is a recipient of the Royal Scottish Academy Morton Award for lens-based art. Previous projects include residencies at Culloden Battlefield and Aden Country Park and collaborations with the National Theatre of Scotland. Chris Bird helped establish 'Ffoto Alternative', a group dedicated to encouraging experimental photography. Chris has previously collaborated on projection mapping artworks as part of the blinc digital festival in Conwy and the Spectra Light Festival in Aberdeen.

Plane Spotting

Paul Campbell

Wednesday 21 September - Saturday 1 October

10am - 4pm (Closed Sun & Mon)

The Nicholson Building, Forres

Free

We have all of us gazed upward and followed the contrails of a passing plane, many thousands of feet above our heads, strands of silk spun across a clear blue sky, creating a momentary record of a journey taken by unknown travellers to unknown destinations. Plane Spotting is a photographic exhibition that captures that fleeting moment and gives it permanence.

Paul Campbell is a self-taught Commercial and Fine Art photographer based in Inverness. A versatile photographer, Paul prefers to create images that mix compositional simplicity with a minimalist aesthetic.

Home, Community & Culture

Special Event

Meet the Architect
Sunday 25 September

2pm - 4pm

Home, Community and Culture brings together all the elements of eco-friendly planning, design and construction in an exhibition that will both educate and entertain.

Located at the heart of The Park Eco-village, Moray Arts Centre is the ideal venue to showcase leading innovations in Scottish environmental architecture and sustainable building design. Amongst the exhibitors will be leading architects from across Moray, including MAKAR, Green Leaf Design & Build and Coast2Coast, along with Glasgow based Collective Architecture.

The exhibition turns the spotlight upon innovative buildings that are not just a home or a workplace, they form part of a community, influence culture and help provide a sustainable environment for future generations of users. The exhibits cover the technical designs, artist's impressions, scale models, photo archives and displays used by architects to take a new building from conception to construction.

September

11am

Departs from
The Visitor Centre
The Park, Findhorn

£8 / £6

The tour lasts approx. 1.5 hours.

Celebrate Scotland's Year of Innovation, Architecture and Design at the Findhorn Foundation's pioneering Eco-village.

Since its establishment in 1982, the Park Eco-village has been at the forefront of sustainable development across the globe and has received Best Practice designation from the United Nations Centre for Human Settlements.

Tours are led by architect, academic and photographer Graham Meltzer and long-time tour guide Patrick Lewington and will take in the Eco-village's most famous features including The Universal Hall, Whisky Barrel House, Straw Bale House, Nature Sanctuary, Eco-mobiles and the very latest co-housing development, East Whins.

Picnic at the Park

Presented by The Park
Eco-village and
Findhorn Foundation

Sunday 25 September

11am - 4pm

The Park, Findhorn

Free

Nestling beside Findhorn Bay and surrounded by sand dunes and conifer woods, there's no place better to enjoy a relaxing Sunday picnic than The Park's Eco-village.

If you've forgotten to pack your hamper there will be a feast of local cuisines available from The Park's cafés and a BBQ serving organic burgers and plenty of veggie fayre. There will be live music to enjoy, performances from Forres Big choir, and a host of family friendly entertainments including tours of the park in the Festival favourite Little Red Bus that will keep the kids happy for hours.

Animal Antics

Conflux

Saturday 24 September
Around Forres

11am - 4pm

Sunday 25 September
Around Findhorn

11am - 4pm

Free

Scotland's leading developer of street art and physical theatre, Conflux, has joined forces with young people from across Moray to amaze and delight festival-goers with a cornucopia of fantastical community street theatre performances.

Keep a lookout for a majestic ballet of violent swans, a manic brood of hopping hens, an irritable bunch of flipping businessmen, a pesky swarm of wasp-like clerks and a whole farmyard more of crazy creatures. We advise you approach with caution - some of them are doing their shopping!

Behind the fishy costumes and waspish masks, the stars of Animal Antics are all volunteers from local youth groups, expertly coached by Conflux, and now ready to unleash their new-found talents upon the Findhorn Bay Festival.

Mr. H

Hillis Smith

Saturday 24 September
Around Forres

11am - 4pm

Sunday 25 September
Around Findhorn

11am - 4pm

Free

When Mr H arrives the comedy doors will swing open. Enjoy the crazy antics of this silent clown as he stumbles around the streets, grappling with everyday objects, attempting to turn the world inside out and upside down. Mr H arrives without a care in the world: just a broom, a table, a chair, some playful comedy and some spectacular acrobatics.

From humble beginnings with a set of fire clubs performing on street corners around Ireland, Mr H, aka Hillis Smith, has subsequently toured the world and appeared in acclaimed ensemble pieces such as Toin Thar Ceann with Tumble Circus and Cyclope with PlateauLac.

Tickets & Booking

Findhorn Bay Festival aims to keep its ticket prices as low as possible, and offers many free events too. We hope by doing this that you feel the Festival is great value and accessible to all.

Online: www.findhornbayfestival.com

Phone (TicketSource): 0333 666 3366

Please note when booking tickets that you will be redirected to the TicketSource Box Office and that a ticket booking fee and administration charge will apply.

Door Times

For most events doors will be open 30 minutes before the advertised start time.

Reduced Rates

Concessions apply to full-time students, over 60s, and those claiming unemployment or disability benefits. We will ask to see proof of reduced rate status at time of purchase or at the event. A family ticket is offered for a family of four (either one adult and three children or two adults and two children under the age of 16).

Programme Changes, Cancellations & Refunds

The festival can only refund money or exchange tickets in the case of a cancelled event. All information in our festival programme is accurate at the time of going to print but, can be subject to change. We will do our best to keep information on our website up to date. You can also contact the festival office on 01309 673137 for further information.

Children & Under 18s

Children and under 18s are welcome to most of our events. All children and under 18s must be accompanied by a responsible adult aged 25 or over, unless it is an 'All ages' event. Some restrictions apply to under 18s at live sessions that take place in a licensed public bar. Please check with the venue.

Disabled Access

The Festival aims to be as accessible as possible, all venues used have full access unless otherwise stated. If you require assistance or special seating to be reserved please contact the Festival office on 01309 673137. People with a disability who require assistance can avail of a half price ticket for their personal assistant. You can visit our festival website or see the venue listings on page 50 for a list of venues.

Thank you to the many artists, volunteers, community groups and organisations, business and the local hospitality sector who have contributed support in so many ways to make this festival possible and a celebration of our 'Creative Place' - without you it would not be possible.
