

FINDHORN BAY FESTIVAL

Tom Watt is a visual artist from Ireland currently based in Hopeman. He builds site specific structures that aim to bring people together. Designed with an interest in architecture and place making, Tom likes to discover opportunities in nature and assigning them new functions.

Tom's first viewing structure is located on the cliffs at Cove Bay just 1 mile east of Hopeman along the Moray Coast Trail. Bring a picnic or a flask if you like. Use caution if visiting as there is a steep drop. Children should be accompanied by an adult.

Tom Watt Lookout Structure #1

This project is supported by the Visual Artist and Craft Maker Awards and Findhorn Bay Arts.

Thanks to Duncan from Erratic North for the help installing the structure and Sam Chinnery for use of the workshop.
